The Wetlands Institute is the perfect venue to host any affair. Whether your event has you having cocktails in the garden, dinner in Marshview Hall, or just dancing on the decks, The Wetlands Institute is the perfect setting.

Every visit to The Wetlands Institute begins with Marion's Gardens, award winning gardens which surround the front lawn and line the walkway to the main building. Hundreds of native plants, each chosen to attract pollinators, create the perfect backdrop for ceremonies, cocktail parties, reunions, and gatherings of all sorts.

In Marshview Hall, a 40' x 40' room with two picture window walls, you will enjoy expansive views of 6,000 acres of pristine coastal wetlands that offer spectacular sunsets.

The room comfortably seats 150 for lectures and conferences, 120 for a buffet reception and approximately 100 for a sit-down dinner.

The Wetlands Institute offers several decks to use for your event as well. The outdoor Observation Deck, the covered Wetlandia Deck, and Terrapin Station Deck. No matter what your event, the views from these decks are amazing.
