

NEHST

Special Family Field Trip!

SNJ Today Studio &
Cape May County Emergency Management Office
October 20, 2017, 10:00AM - 2:00PM

Nature Education for Homeschoolers, Students & Teachers

Meet our South Jersey local weather guy Nor'Easter Nick, tour the SJN Today TV studio, and find out more about weather forecasting.

Then we'll meet Marty Pagliughi and have a tour of Cape May County Emergency Management Office where services such as evacuations, rescues, and preparations are coordinated before, during, and after a severe storm or other emergency.

Fee: $5.00 per family

For More Information, Directions, and to Register
Please email

Sue Slotterback, Environmental Educator at sslotterback@wetlandsinstitute.org .

Mark Your Calendar Now! You don't want to miss The NEHST's upcoming Special Family Workshop and Field Trips

Family Workshop:

Local Birds Count! – Helping Scientists Learn About Birds

December 13, 2017, 10:00AM – 12:00PM

For over a hundred years citizen scientists (just like you!) have been counting the number of bird species they see in one day. The data they collect helps scientists see patterns and make decisions about conservation. We'll be learning how to tell one bird from another and doing a count of our own, comparing it to what's been seen lately and getting ready for the annual Christmas Bird Count on December 17. Cool science stuff!!

Fee: $10:00 per family

Family Field Trip:

Cumberland County Eagle Fest

Saturday, February 3, 2018

Guided walks & talks, exhibits, food, live bird presentations, kid crafts.. A fun day all about eagles and other birds of prey.

Location: Mauricetown Fire Hall, Mauricetown

Fee: entrance at the festival

Family Field Trip:

An Overnight at The Wetlands

Are you up for experiencing the wetlands like never before?? Seining as the sun sets, night hike on the beach, flashlight scavenger hunt are just the beginning. Come join us for a night of fun in the salt marsh.

April 25-26, 2018, 5:30PM to 8:00AM

Fee: $20.00 per person

